Canadian Red Angus Reign at Denver
Stock Show

January 16, 2014: for immediate release

Rocky View County, AB — Canadian Red Angus cattle and genetics are excelling in Denver. The National Western Stock Show held its first show in 1906 and is credited for bringing people in from around the world as one of the premier stock shows in the world. Exhibitors from across the U.S. and Canada competed in this year's show on "the hill" on January 13 parading their individual cattle against cattle of the same gender and age.

Clayton and Corinne Gibson of Six Mile Red Angus Ltd. in Fir Mountain, Saskatchewan, exhibited the Grand Champion Red Angus Bull with Six Mile Taurus 519A, a junior bull calf.

Six Mile Red Angus Ltd. also received premier breeder honours as a result of their and other breeders' success with Six Mile genetics throughout the show.

Mike McDonald of Windy Hill Livestock in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, received premier exhibitor, calculated from the exhibitor's successful placement in individual classes.

"Canadian Red Angus genetics have become very popular south of our border," said Rob Smith, CAA CEO. "I think our breeders should be quite proud and humbled by the fact that Canadian Angus genetics are soaring around the world as some of the best and most sought after."

The National Western Stock Show's mission is to preserve the western lifestyle through an emphasis on education in agriculture.

The Canadian Angus Association is Canada's largest purebred beef breed organization. The Association represents 3,000 members across Canada for the purposes of registering and recording the pedigrees of purebred Angus cattle in the closed Herd Book and promoting the breed across Canada. The member-approved mandate is to maintain breed registry, breed purity and provide services that enhance the growth and position of the Angus breed.
