“It was another year of intense and exciting competition for our Gold Show program,” says CAA CEO Rob Smith. “Our members take great pride in their show cattle. The Gold Show program is a tremendous opportunity to display premium Angus genetics to fellow Angus producers, cattle folk from other breeds, beef industry influencers and the general public, both domestically and around the world.

“This is the thirtieth year of the Canadian Angus Gold Show program. Every year our members come out in huge numbers to support it. The recipients annually use this recognition as a substantial part of their marketing,” he adds, “since it helps them to establish their brand, promote their program and market their superior genetics.”

The winners were recognized at Canadian Western Agribition in Regina, Saskatchewan on Friday, November 23. The Canadian Angus Association congratulates the winners and thanks all who participated in the Gold Show program in 2018. The 'All-Star' awards were first presented in 2012 making this year the seventh annual recognition.

The Gold Show program was developed in 1989 by the Canadian Angus Association to provide an incentive for breeders to move between regions to show cattle. Gold Show winners are determined by the animals that earned the highest number of points in three Gold Shows. If an animal accumulated points in more than three Gold Shows, the points from their best three shows were used in determining end-of-year awards.

The Canadian Angus Association is Canada's largest purebred beef breed organization. The Association represents more than 2,000 members across Canada for the purposes of registering and recording the pedigrees of purebred Angus cattle in the closed HerdBook and promoting the breed across Canada. The member-approved mandate is to maintain breed registry, breed purity and provide services that enhance the growth and position of the Angus breed.
