President’s Message

Now that the Christmas holidays are behind us, it’s time to turn to 2019. Realizing the results of our breeding decisions is an exciting time of year. Whether your plan is to raise the next Champion show heifer or bull—or add 25 more pounds to each of your commercial calves through better genetics, we spend a lot of time researching the bull power we want to enlist. Calving season is a bit like Christmas or a birthday party for us cattle breeders. There is nothing quite like the anticipation of unwrapping a gift. Each calf is a gift, and sometimes the shaky newborn calf stands up and when you see the result of all your research and careful mating decisions it’s like sunlight breaking through the clouds or a dazzling display of fireworks because you see instantly that this time the gift is exactly what you wanted and everything has worked out perfectly. I hope that each and every one of you gets to experience that feeling of pure satisfaction and success at least once this calving season.

I would like to thank all those members that took time out of their busy schedules to respond to our short member satisfaction survey in November. Your participation was overwhelming, with more respondents than any survey we have sent out to date. Thank you. On the heels of your participation in the survey, please familiarize yourself with our Long Range Strategic Plan—Canadian Angus Advantage, and let’s see how each of us as members can have a part in pushing Canadian Angus to the next level, keeping us on top of the beef industry in Canada, sustainable, and profitable for our future generations.

In 2019 Canadian Angus will be celebrating a couple of significant milestones. Firstly, the Canadian Angus (formerly known as “Rancher Endorsed”) RFID tag will be 20 years old. I remember when the first Angus dangle tags were available, my father and I sat at the kitchen table and discussed why we should purchase “Angus” tags for our small operation as opposed to just going to the local Co-op and purchasing generic tags. First to mind came Angus Pride. At that time we were selling our calves to a local feedlot and the thoughts of having our calves identified in his lot was as good a reason as any. From that point in time, we have continued to use not only the Angus green tag (RFID button), but also the dangle tags or management ear tags.

In my end of the country, to be part of an Angus branded program (at the present time) is a bit more challenging than in other places in Canada. But that does not stop us from using Angus tags. Because of our geographical location are we receiving a premium? Probably not directly. In fact, our Business Development Team has reported for years that the mere act of putting an Angus tag in a calf’s ear does not bring it a premium. I may never see a “premium” for putting a tag in my Angus or Angus-influenced calves’ ears, but our Business Development Team has seen that Angus-tagged cattle receive fewer discounts than similar cattle that don’t have an Angus tag. There are other benefits to using Angus tags that may not translate into more dollars that we can point to on a sales slip but they are a type of premium nonetheless:

1. Perhaps there are more potential buyers bidding on our calves at a sale
2. The recent partnership between Boehringer Ingelheim (through the use of their Express Verified vaccines) and Canadian Angus tags will provide certain guarantees on herds that follow their vet certified protocols, which will add value to my calves as they enter into a feedlot
3. If my calves get into Quebec or Ontario feedlots, programs like Meyer’s Natural Angus branded programs are in desperate need of tagged Angus calves, and they are paying a premium!
4. The only way that Red Angus cattle are eligible for branded Angus beef programs in Canada is through the Angus RFID tag.
5. I still feel pride in using the only tag in the beef industry that identifies cattle with a minimum of 50% Angus genetics.

All of these things will certainly add value to my calves... sounds like a premium to me.

Your Canadian Angus Association is celebrating another 20th anniversary in 2019. It was 20 years ago that members were offered the first electronic options for online submission of registrations and weights. The Association is celebrating this milestone by holding monthly draws and offering prizes to those who use electronic services. Please join the "green" bandwagon in another way by making 2019 the year that you submit all your data, registrations, transfers and payments electronically. The new AngusNOW live registration system that is being beta tested as I write this message will make paperwork less cumbersome, and once you have your updated herd inventory in place, you will see other advantages. For more information on AngusNOW and other options to go electronic and paperless, please contact our staff at Angus Central.

Just a couple more steps that you can incorporate along the path to success!

On the “lighter side” to end out 2018... we should always strive to learn something new each day (and perhaps have a chuckle each day as well). That being said, we all know what the term “disgruntled” means and how we would incorporate it in a sentence? Well, did you know that the opposite of disgruntled as defined by Webster’s Dictionary is “gruntled”?! Look it up—I had to! Try using that in a sentence. I did and you just read what I came up with.

Best wishes for a happy new year. May your calf crop be all you hoped for, your operation stay sustainable, profitable and successful in the coming months.

President
CEO’s Message

May our New Year in 2019 bring you all the peace, health, prosperity and joy you hope for and deserve.

And, from the bottom of my heart, thank you for the honour of serving you these past 7½ years.

The extraordinary group that recommended me – David Bolduc, Roger Hardy, Bob Switzer, Kirk Wildman and the late, great (and dearly lamented) John Donaldson – gave me an ‘opportunity of a lifetime’ for which I am eternally grateful.

Each and every day since has been my privilege.

The best people. The best industry. The best team. The best breed.

Thank you. God Bless.

Believe,

Rob Smith
Chief Executive Officer

Credit Card Transactions

As of October 14, 2018, Visa and Mastercard have started requiring that all credit card purchases where the cardholder is not present include the CVV number. In accordance with this policy change, CAA is now required to collect CVV numbers from members who wish to keep a credit card on file. If you have not already provided yours, please call our office as soon as possible to prevent failed transactions and keep your account current. If you prefer not to keep a credit card on file, we accept e-transfers and cheques.

Message from the Member Service Team

The Canadian AngusONE Genetic Evaluation

The Canadian Angus Association has run our genetic evaluations with our American counterparts the American Angus Association (AAA) and the Red Angus Association of America (RAAA) for more than 20 years. Doing so gave us EPDs for Canadian cattle that were comparable to those in the U.S. making it easier to market Canadian genetics across the border. However, that meant that Canadian Black Angus EPDs were not comparable to Canadian Red Angus EPDs. This fall, the genetic evaluation system used by RAAA and CAA for our Red Angus cattle was retired as newer genetic evaluation methodology has become available. Your Association assessed all genetic evaluation systems available to us and chose one for Red Angus that we believe offers the best advantages. That evaluation is the AngusONE evaluation in which all Canadian Angus animals, both red and black, are evaluated with their Black American Angus counterparts at Angus Genetics Inc (AGI).
Canadian Red Angus EPDs have changed.
They are now on a new base.
The EPDs from the AngusONE evaluation are not comparable to the ‘old red’ evaluation or to any other evaluation.
Members will need to adjust to this new base.
Please use the new Red Angus breed averages and percentile rankings to orient yourselves to what your new target EPD should be. The new breed averages are:

Easier yet, use the percentile rank graph to evaluate animals. The new percentile rank system is now working online. Canadian Red Angus animals will have their own breed average and will be ranked against other Canadian Red Angus animals. The example of a percentile rank graph below shows you how easy it is to use percentile ranks, and the graphs in particular, to describe your genetics.

The AngusONE genetic evaluation offers a lot of advantages, but change, including a new genetic evaluation, a new EPD base, and new target EPDs, takes time and understanding to get used to. Your Canadian Angus Association Member Service Team is prepared to provide support and education for our members and your customers. Please do not hesitate to contact us for assistance.

Industry News and Events

Canadian Angus RFID-tagged animals needed immediately for Meyer Natural Angus:

Meyer Natural Angus has contacted the Canadian Angus Association in need of more Canadian Angus RFID-tagged animals for their branded beef program. The demand for Canadian Angus RFID-tagged animals vastly outweighs the current supply. Based out of Ontario, the program imports beef from across Canada—so coast to coast, they want your Canadian Angus RFID-tagged animals!

Meyer Natural Angus’ promise is something we can all get behind as Angus producers:
Chefs and consumers who enjoy the superior taste and eating experience of Angus beef appreciate that Meyer Natural Angus is a brand of all-natural beef with Angus genetics offering the consistent renowned taste and tenderness of the Angus breed. The goal at Meyer Natural Angus is to produce the highest-quality, most consistent all-natural beef available, embracing and satisfying the growing consumer demand for great tasting, humanely handled beef.

For those of you unfamiliar with Meyer Natural Angus, more information can be found on their website: www.meyernaturalangus.com or contact Scott Coakley at scoakley@meyerfoods.com or 907-292-5573 or 303-884-7202.

Make sure you order your Canadian Angus RFID tags today in order to take advantage of opportunities like these and help Meyer Natural Angus, a proud supporter of Canadian Angus.

GOAL Travel Bursaries

Awarded by the Canadian Angus Foundation and Canadian Junior Angus

The Guiding Outstanding Angus Leaders (GOAL) Conference promotes leadership skills within the Angus breed. Junior members from all over the country attend this three-day event held in a different location each year. During the event, Juniors hear from nationally recognized speakers, participate in workshops designed to improve their leadership skills, get involved in teamwork activities, and develop beef and industry knowledge. Participants are also given the opportunity to network and socialize with fellow Junior Angus members.

Eight Canadian Angus Foundation (CAF) and four Canadian Junior Angus (CJA) GOAL Travel Bursaries will be awarded in the amount of up to $750 to ten deserving CJA members and two Commercial Angus youth from anywhere in Canada. Bursaries must be used within the same year awarded to help off-set travel and registration costs for the GOAL Conference.

“I was fortunate enough to have won a travel bursary through the Canadian Angus Foundation which helped to offset my travel to Ottawa, Ontario to attend my first GOAL conference. I was made aware of the travel bursary application by a fellow Junior and figured it would be worth the short time it took to complete! The application process was very easy and straightforward. The first step was to make a résumé of all your Angus involvement, and then answer a few short questions.

When I got the phone call to find out that I had won one of the bursaries I was so excited and could not wait for GOAL conference to come! Winning this meant a lot to me. It truly shows how invested in Juniors the Canadian Angus Association and Canadian Angus Foundation are. The opportunity to attend GOAL allowed me to interact with Juniors that have the same interests as me. Also we got hear from top speakers regarding issues within the cattle industry, which allowed me to come home and share these issues with my family and to apply what I learned to our herd.

Thank you, Riley Leeson”

To be considered for the award, complete and return this application to the Canadian Angus Foundation by January 1, 2019. GOAL 2019 will be held in Moose Jaw, February 16-18.

Applicant qualifications:
1. Applicants must be a member of Canadian Junior Angus.
2. All applicants must be 15 years of age or older or be accompanied by a parent or guardian during GOAL.
3. If awarded, applicant must attend that year’s GOAL Conference.
4. All applications must be typed. No handwritten applications will be accepted.
5. Applications must be submitted by email to Belinda Wagner at bwagner@cdnangus.ca with the subject line reading “GOAL Travel Bursaries”.
6. A selection committee will evaluate applications. No interviews will be conducted. Recipients will be contacted one week following the deadline to make travel plans through Belinda Wagner.

Complete application to include:
1. Cover sheet with name, contact information and CAA ID number.
2. Résumé to include but not limited to Angus involvement within the CJA, provincially and hands-on with cattle.
3. Submit answers to the following questions:
   • What do you hope to gain from attending GOAL?
   • What makes you a good candidate to attend GOAL?
   • Explain what you would return to the CAF and CJA in exchange for the ability to attend GOAL.
